CORE HR

Do you need advice regarding your people, or would appreciate having a Human Resources expert at your disposal?

Our Core HR service is perfect for those leaders that are running the business and the HR function but need an expert for reassurance, questions, templates, or bursts of support each month.

Involvi partners with the leaders of your organization to execute projects that have been identified while providing People Operations support in areas of risk mitigation, compliance, and best practices. Based on the selected package your organization can utilize your monthly hours how you see fit within the Included Services with large projects or billed separately.
